

"For goodness sake - just DO it!" Are these familiar words from childhood? Perhaps the words we use on our children today? But how can they 'just do it' when hearts are resisting? We all know the pain of dealing with 'oppositional' children - and there are times we all fit this description! Will compliance for the sake of keeping the peace lead to passive aggression, then onto open rebellion, finally ending with a break down of relationship?

Obedience and submission are essential skills to be learned, but sometimes assertiveness and negotiation skills precede the ability to comply. Where does it leave us when the 'authority figure' will not even allow that? Some up-skilling needed...!

In this Tweet, David will outline the skills needed, and provide tools, insights and help required in this difficult and often painful arena.

Susanna Burton Photography

Nelson based counsellor and speaker, David Riddell has spent his life searching for useful truth and disseminating it to the people of God. David is Founder and Dean of the Living Wisdom School, and over the past two decades, he and his wife Rosemary have travelled extensively running those Schools. They also operate the Living Wisdom College in Nelson, where students from all walks of life can live in for short term courses on a variety of mental, emotional and relational issues.

P.O. Box 2338,
Stoke, Nelson 7041
New Zealand

Phone 64 (0)3 547 4386

Email: enquiries@livingwisdom.co.nz

Web: www.livingwisdom.co.nz

A Living Wisdom Tweet - with David Riddell
Defiance versus Submission

A Living Wisdom Tweet

with

David Riddell

DEFIANCE vs. Submission

"Slow obedience is no obedience"
True or false?

Compact
Disc
Set

Compact Discs - set of 2
1 hour 34 minutes
Copyright 2014 - All Rights Reserved